

TODAY BUSY ONE FOR PRESIDENT

TAFT AND PARTY ENTERTAINED AT A. Y. P. EXPOSITION.

REVIEWS A BIG PARADE

Of Soldiers, School Children, Marines and Igorrotes and Others in Costume This Morning.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 30.—President Taft began today with the assurance that he would have a good time at the Alaska-Yukon Pacific exposition. The president and his party left the hotel at 9:15 this morning, in an automobile and on the steps of the exposition auditorium were received by the officials and the reception committee.

From this point the president and escort reviewed the parade of soldiers, marines, school children, Igorrotes, Indians, Eskimos and Japanese in costume.

Two hundred school children maneuvered before the president and then formed the letters "A. Y. P. E." At 1 p. m. the president ate lunch on the terrace with sixty persons in the New York building.

At the Amphitheatre on the shore of Lake Washington the president addressed 25,000 persons.

HOLD TWO MEN FOR BURGLARY ATTEMPT

Pair Arrested in Wausau Released And Then Re-Arrested Charged With Postoffice Job.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Wausau, Sept. 30.—James Kennedy and Edward Lytle, alleged safe blowers, were brought to Wausau from Neillville yesterday afternoon and after being taken before Judge Marchet, it where they entered a plea of not guilty, they were lodged in the county jail, to await their hearing, which was set for Saturday forenoon. They were discharged from custody by the Clark county authorities yesterday forenoon and no sooner were they discharged than they were re-arrested by Under-sheriff Frank O'Connor on a warrant charging them with having attempted to burglarize the safe in the Athens State bank.

A United States postoffice inspector was in the city this forenoon to see the men with a view of connecting them with the burglary of the postoffice in Neenah a short time ago.

Denies Charge. Thomas LaPointe, who was arrested on the charge of having burned his home in Neillville, Sept. 25, had not prepared his supper on his return home, pleaded not guilty at Neillville yesterday and his bail was placed at $500. Failing to provide this he was brought here and placed in jail.

NO CRITICISM FOR GEN. GRANT'S ACTION

Dickinson Said He Had Right If He Chose to Appear in Temperance Parade in Uniform.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Washington, D. C., Sept. 30.—Secretary Dickinson had nothing to criticize in the actions of General Grant in taking part in the temperance and law enforcement parade in Chicago, in his uniform as major general of the United States, and says that as to such movements each soldier and officer has a right to determine that matter for himself.

SUPER-DREADNOUGHT IS LAUNCHED TODAY

Battleship Neptune, To Be Most Powerful Boat in the World, Launched at Portsmouth.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Portsmouth, Eng., Sept. 30.—The Neptune, the "super-dreadnought," which is designed to be the most powerful battleship afloat, was launched successfully here today. An enormous crowd gathered to see the vessel take the water. She was christened by the Duchess of Albany.

The Neptune is of 20,250 tons displacement, and is both longer and wider than the Dreadnought. The admiralty has observed its usual reticence with regard to the details of the design and construction of the vessel, but from the figures given out it is manifest that the experience gained from the construction of St. Vincent and other battleships of the Dreadnought type has been utilized in this vessel. The cost of the Neptune is estimated at over $10,000,000.

QUAKERS CELEBRATE IN HOOSIER STATE

Friend Society Observes 100th Anniversary of First Monthly Meeting in Indiana.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Richmond, Ind., Sept. 30.—An interesting celebration was held here today of the one hundredth anniversary of the organization of the first Quaker meeting in Indiana. It was on September 30, 1809, that the Whitewater monthly meeting was established by a small colony of Friends who had come from North Carolina and settled in this vicinity. Some ten or twelve years later the Whitewater monthly meeting grew into the Indiana yearly meeting, now the largest and most powerful body of Friends in the world.

WATCHING DUCKS: DID NOT HEAR TRAIN

Friends of Charles Trask, Killed Near Lake Waubesa, Deny Report He Was Intoxicated.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Madison, Wis., Sept. 30.—Absorbed so thoroughly in watching a flock of ducks that he failed to be attracted by a swiftly approaching train, Charles H. Trask was run down and killed Wednesday morning. This is the theory held by the relatives and friends of the Madison plumber and ex-alderman who lost his life while hunting near Lake Waubesa. A coronor's inquest will be held Friday. It was known that the hunting party of which Trask was a member had taken some intoxicating beverages along on account of the early morning chill, but it is denied that any member of the party was at all under the influence of drink. As there is no sharp curve of the railroad-track where the accident occurred, and the engineer sounded the whistle repeatedly, the assumption gained ground that intoxication caused the death of Mr. Trask. This is stoutly denied.

FOURTEEN YEARS IS THE TERM METED OUT

Self-Confessed Murderer Is Given Long Sentence in State Prison Today.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Ashland, Sept. 30.—Daniel J. Barker of Bayfield received a sentence of fourteen years in state prison for Judge Parish at Ashland today. On July 30th Barker shot and killed Henry Boutin at Bayfield, Barker being jealous of Boutin. The two men were neighbors and warm friends for years. Barker pleaded guilty to murder in the second degree.

SPORTSMEN FLOCK TO MAINE FORESTS

Open Season For Big Game Opens At Midnight Tonight and Hunters Will Be Numerous.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Bangor, Me., Sept. 30.—The open season for deer, moose and other big game, protected by the laws of Maine, begins at midnight tonight and there is every indication that the season will be successful in every respect. Game is reported to be plentiful in all parts of the state and the number of applicants for hunting licenses has been greater than in many years. On every side men in hunting costume, and carrying their guns, can be seen in large numbers and everywhere the hunting platforms are littered with camp outfit on their way to the camps and hunting lodges in the interior. Particularly large is the number of hunters bound for the region about the Penobscot river, Moosehead lake and Aroostook county, where game is more plentiful than in other sections of the state. In that region more than four thousand deer have been killed every year during the last decade and more than half that number of moose.

Under the game laws no man is permitted to shoot more than two deer during the season, which ends on December 15, and only one bull moose during the season which ends on December 1. Cow and calf moose are not to be killed at all. Bear may be shot at any time and without restriction as to number, while caribou are protected at all times and may not be shot at all. Dogs, jacklights, artificial lights, snares and traps are prohibited in hunting deer or moose. Only moose bulls having at least two teeth to their horns may be shot. The hunting season is always a source of considerable profit to the state and its inhabitants, particularly to the owners of forest tracts and hunting camps. It is estimated that the visiting sportsmen spend from $300,000 to $500,000 a year in this state.

"RICE DAY" TODAY IN SOUTHERN STATES

Rice Occupied Prominent Place in Menus of Meals Served in Louisiana and Texas Today.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

New Orleans, La., Sept. 30.—As a part of an elaborate plan to increase the consumption of rice in this country today was observed as "rice day" throughout Texas and Louisiana, in which two states the greater part of the crop in America is produced. Rice in its varied forms occupied a prominent place on the menu in hotels throughout the two states and in the dining cars on all the principal railroads. Large quantities of literature exploiting rice as a food were sent broadcast throughout the country by the associations of rice growers and other commercial organizations.

STATE CONVENTION OF THE MASSACHUSETTS DEMOCRATS

Faneuil Hall Scene Of Gathering Of Dominics Who Nominate State Officers Today.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Boston, Mass., Sept. 30.—Democrats of Massachusetts met in state convention in Faneuil Hall today and nominated a ticket to be voted for at the state election in November. James H. Vahney of Watertown, a member of the state senate, was named for governor. Senator Vahney was the Democratic candidate last year and was defeated by Gen. Eben S. Draper, the Republican nominee.

IN MEMORY OF WAR VETERANS

Franklin, N. C., Sept. 30.—A handsome monument erected in memory of the Confederate dead of Macon county was unveiled today with interesting ceremonies. The event was attended by a large crowd that included several distinguished guests from elsewhere in North Carolina and from neighboring states.

UNIVERSITY HEAD IS SEVENTY-FIVE TODAY

Dr. Cyrus Northrup, President Of Minnesota College, Passes Three-Quarter Century Mark.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 30.—Dr. Cyrus Northrup, who will retire at the end of the present college year from the position of president of the University of Minnesota, after having held that position for twenty-five years, celebrated his seventy-fifth birthday today. He was overwhelmed with letters and telegrams of congratulation from his friends and former students of the university and the members of the faculty, the students and the citizens in general vied with each other in showing to the beloved "proxy" the high regard in which they hold him. Dr. Northrup is a native of Connecticut and a Yale graduate. He came to the University of Minnesota in 1881, when it was a college of a few buildings and few students. Under his able management the university developed into a magnificent institution, attended by more than four thousand students.

IMMENSE CROWDS AT EXPOSITION TODAY

Presence Of President At The Fair Draws Thousands Of Visitors From Nearby Cities.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 30.—The announcement that President Taft would spend the day at the Alaska-Yukon exposition proved a powerful stimulus to the attendance at the big fair and from early morning big crowds streamed to the grounds, where special arrangements had been made for the occasion. In honor of the distinguished visitors the management of the exposition had provided many special features for the day and arranged an interesting program. The latter included an address by President Taft at the natural theatre, which has a seating capacity of 15,000, visits to the various exhibition and state buildings and the "Play Street" and a banquet in the Washington State building in the evening. Special features for the evening will be a grand illumination and fireworks.

INVESTIGATION IS BEING HELD TODAY

State Board of Control Has Two Cases of Alleged Violence to Investigate.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Madison, Wis., Sept. 30.—The State Board of Control will hold an investigation this afternoon of two cases of alleged brutality by attendants at the State Hospital for the Insane at Mendota. The sheriff of Green county is here demanding a warrant for the arrest of an asylum subordinate who is said to have nearly fatally beaten a Green county patient who is now in bed listed as recovering from a fall downstairs. Another patient from Dane county is also sick, the alleged result of brutality.

TO SEND POWER ALL WAY TO MILWAUKEE

Line Is Being Extended to Cream City by Way of Green Bay—To Rush Work.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Madison, Wis., Sept. 30.—There is a report here that the Hydro-Electric Company which is developing 7000 horse power at High Falls and has 4000 undeveloped at Jackson Falls, is preparing to transmit power to Milwaukee for use in the factories and already poles and wires are being stretched between High Falls and Green Bay.

SEPTEMBER WHEAT SKYROCKETED IN CLOSING SELLING

Shorts Endeavor to Cover and Bid High Prices For Needed Cereal To Do So With.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 30.—Amid scenes of intense excitement on the board of trade today, September wheat advanced 14 cents to $1.20. Oats were pushed up to 48, an advance of 3 1/2 cents.

Early this afternoon one prominent firm was short 250,000 bushels of wheat and raised its bid one cent. No wheat, two cents, three cents, five cents—still none of the needed event. The skyrocketing bid began, and before it stopped and wheat began to come out $1.19 had been bid. Some came out at 1.20 from George Patten, brother of James A. Patten, the leader of the recent big wheat deal.

The shorts are estimated to have bought between 750,000 and a million bushels at inflated prices. No one interest was hard hit with the exception of the firm alluded to which was compelled to cover a quarter of a million bushels.

The bull pool is said to have been headed by Theodore H. Waterman of New York and Albany. The pool's holdings, while not extremely heavy, were sufficient to control the market.

Sleepless Nights

"My wife is of a nervous temperament, and has suffered much from sleeplessness. Since using Dr. Miles' Nervine she has greatly improved and now sleeps well."

W. W. FISHBACK, Redkey, Ind.

When the nerves become weak, worn-out, excitable from overwork, worry, grief or mental exhaustion, their turbulent condition prevents that total relaxation that induces sleep.

Dr. Miles' Nervine by its soothing and quieting influence and by strengthening and replenishing the exhausted nerve force brings profound and restful sleep.

"The first bottle will benefit. If not, the druggist will return your money."

LITTLE DOING WITH FOOTBALL MEN YET

University Players Have Not Developed Very Quickly—Team Not Picked As Yet.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 30.—The season work of football practice at the University of Wisconsin, while it brought more than three score mole-skinned athletes to the gridiron, and also presented the first scrimmage of the season, was unproductive of a selection for the badge eleven, and the third week, at the end of which the 1st of the 5 games allowed by schedule will be played, opens with work ahead for Coach Tom Barry. Lawrence comes here a week from Saturday and it is expected only that the cardinal eleven will hold the Appleton college in the score that will indicate college superiority of the variety over the college, but will not be of much use in comparison with the 26 points piled up by Minnesota against Lawrence.

Faculty harshness toward football is still apparent, keeping Coach at work making up time at mechanical drawing, because an instructor said the university strong man put in too much time at track work last June when he should have been practicing over a draughting board. Back, substitute halfback and quarterback for two years, is also exerting himself to remove three minor scholastic discredits. Boyle has emerged successfully from a "condition" examination, but several good players are hopelessly ineligible. For a few days there was grave fear lest "Keeble" Moll, mainstay of the team, would be allowed to play. It seems that during an examination last June a difference of opinion arose between the variety of opinion among the faculty members, in which the pedagogues made some observations reflecting upon the manner in which the athlete was writing the examination. Moll, somewhat quick of temper and somewhat under what he claimed to be an unjust aspersions, told the teacher where to go. Ye teacher, possibly in contemplation of the torridity of the locality to which the student consigned him, forthwith got hot and wrote down "foul" as the sum total of Moll's work in that class, and that record if allowed to stand would have kept "Keeble" out of athletics. The incident created quite a revolution. Dr. C. P. Hutchins, director of athletics, brought the matter before the faculty, a special and thorough investigation was ordered. It was ascertained that aside from this incident Moll was well up with his class, and the determination was reached that no adjustment of the disciplinary matter should be reached. Now Moll is eligible and a fixture at quarterback. Captain Allen has thus far been alone in the picking of fullback, but Coach Barry has been almost without a man upon whom to depend. However, Jacobson, a stocky fellow who played fullback last season, has come out and will be in the practice work, and handy in the event of accident to the captain.

The coach is encountering difficulty in filling the central trio, where Stilling, Dreitzer and Mosamer played last year. Arthur, sub-center, was doped for Scholastic place, but Alfred Under, freshman tackle, seems to have preference, although he prefers to play at guard or tackle. Arthur, however, will doubtless be one of the regulars in the Lawrence game. There is a goodly lot of material at hand for the line and confidence prevails that the problem will be satisfactorily solved. The appearance of Zander, a husky Milwaukee man, who showed up Wednesday, made the other candidates for line positions brace for work, for he at once took a leading place in the competition. Bud Culver, who sacrificed a trip to Japan with the university baseball team in order to miss none of the football practice, is not seriously opposed in his efforts to retain his halfback job, and it is whispered that for his loyalty to football he will be made chief rival when the time comes at the end of the season to vote for a captain to lead the eleven next year.

The coming week will see the Wisconsin eleven quite definitely selected for the season and will wind up on Saturday with the opening game with Lawrence, which will give opportunity to Lawrence, judgment on the men in action.

Link and Pin

Chicago and North-Western Engineer Walter Wilke caught the third switch-engine, number 884, this morning. This is his first step as a full-fledged engineer.

Fireman Setz was taken off number 20 yesterday with Engineer Harrison.

Fireman McCann is on 330 today with Engineer Tuttle.

A notice has just been posted which states that permanent positions as engineers on the Rockwell and Southern Division are open for application.

MARS AND THE MOON TRAVELING TANDEM

Brilliant Planet and Mellow Orb Journey Together Along the Sky.

Did you observe that brilliant star which seemed to pursue the dear, old moon across the sky last night? Some folks got quite excited about it, and wanted to find out if there were any reports of the world coming to an end, despite the announcement from the east that the impending cataclysm had been postponed.

But there was nothing in the least portentous or mysterious about that star. It was one of old Alpha's best friends, none other than old Mars, a messenger from which visited the planet some years ago and is still supposed to be hiding out in the neighborhood of Grand Forks, N. D., or some such out-of-the-way place.

Mars and the moon crossed the sky together last night, traveled tandem, so to speak, while they were in the neighborhood of the earth. This phenomenon happens not infrequently, although the two planets do not always approach so closely to each other as they did last night.

Mars requires two years to travel around its orbit, while the moon makes the grand circuit of the earth once every month.

Although they are millions and millions of miles apart, the two planets naturally cross each other at stated intervals. Last month, it may be recalled, the moon passed in front of Mars, completely obscuring it from view.

The Rev. James McGeary, S. J., professor of astronomy at Marquette university, Milwaukee, observed the transit of Mars at the university observatory last night. Prof. McGeary said that the moon and Mars are especially beautiful at this season of the year because of the clarity of the atmosphere.

"There is nothing out of the ordinary about the positions of the moon and Mars tonight," he said, "although perhaps they do not often cross the sky in so direct a line."

Why People Live Long.

Dr. van Lihelien, a German scientist, who has been making a study of longevity, publishes the results of his observations on a series of 700 persons of both sexes, who had reached the age of 80 years and upward. His observations lead to the conclusion that instances of longevity are most often met with among persons whose parents and grandparents have been healthy, and especially if they have been long-lived; who have studied regularly, punctually and temperance all through life; and who have postponed their retirement from active occupation as long as possible.

Contract for Much Coal.

Four railroads, according to "The Black Diamond," the official organ of the coal trade, have just closed contracts for approximately 600,000 tons of coal for use during the entire year. In and of itself this is probably not important, because the coal would have been used whether purchased on contract or in the open market. The significance attaching to the transaction is that the railroads had been holding off their purchases and apparently only rushed to cover on the eve of what promises to be a rising market.

Muscular Christianity.

Birmingham, England, was the home of prize fighting when the ring was patronized by literature and royalty. There was Hendigo, who became an enemy to all unrighteousness, "Wot's athletes?" he asked once, on being told that a gathering of men he saw were of that persuasion. He was told, "Don't believe in no God, don't they," he shouted. "I'm hold my coat." I'll soon show 'em wot's wot."

The Golden Mean.

A certain English mayor, whose period of office had come to an end, was surveying the work of the year. "I have endeavored," he said with an air of conscious rectitude, "to administer justice without swerving to partiality, on the one hand, or impartiality, on the other."

IS MUCH EXCITED

The Wall Street Journal is much excited over the proposition of the Chicago Common Council, which has passed an ordinance which if able to be enforced, will compel all railways entering Chicago to be electrified.

The said municipality for the money kings of the nation says as follows:

"It would be better for this country that we should have no railroads at all than that the railroads should exist as an independent power, able to defy the will of the citizens of the United States. It is of the essence of popular government that a people should learn by making its own mistakes, and no interest can fairly complain if it is occasionally the victim of injudicious experiment in popular control. Granted all this, it must yet be said that we suffer from unelected leaders who damage the popular cause by the indirect assertion of the people's authority.

"We are informed that the board of aldermen of Chicago is unanimously in favor of compelling the electrification of all the railroads entering Chicago. If an ordinance of the board of aldermen carried any authority in such a matter (which it does not), this would mean a mandatory expenditure by the railroads of $150,000,000, imposing expenditures upon anybody is stretching the right of public regulation; but if such expenditure were necessary to fulfill the contract implied in a public corporation's charter, such regulation would be justified. In the case in question, however, something is demanded which no railroad has contracted to supply.

"If the city of Chicago wants to know its position in the matter, it need only read the charters of the steam railroads, which admittedly give it a good service. As President Delano of the Wabash said, the railroads will use electricity when it becomes cheaper than steam and no sooner. If some force other than electricity or steam is discovered, which commands itself to the minds of the Chicago city fathers, would they be entitled to compel the railroads to rip out their electrical plant and substitute it?"

"It has been pointed out in these columns that the Interstate Commerce commission is trying to assume the actual management of the railroads, in the matter of detaching what is or is not proper maintenance. This is highly dangerous and improper, and is, moreover, most undemocratic. The directors are responsible to their stockholders even if their policy brings disaster to the road. The Interstate Commerce commission and the Chicago board of aldermen undertake to manage the affairs of the railroads, but cannot be held responsible for the expenditure consequences. Authority without responsibility is the negation of sound popular government."

RULE BY COMMISSION

This morning's dispatches announce that twenty cities in Illinois have united in petitioning the next legislature of Illinois that they pass a law which will permit them to govern themselves by commissions instead of by the present system. This is one of the many movements in the way of reform that meets with general approval the country over. Wisconsin has such a law on its books, passed by the last legislature, and it would be well to consider its advantages. The Illinois cities see the advantage that would come from such a law and are anxious for its passage. Here in Wisconsin we have such a law already on the statute books and the opportunity is open to the cities, particularly Janesville, to try its value. Wherever it has been put in operation it has been a success and why not right here in Janesville?

TAFT'S SMILE

When Taft returns to the east after his long journey through the North-west and Southwest portions of this great country of ours he will have left a trail of smiles from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast and back again that will mean much in the future.

Taft is one of the big men of the country. Not only in size but in intellect and he confronts a problem of a party that is divided. He will return to Washington with a united front, with the people behind him. His smile will not be forgotten and while he is not of the same type as was strenuous Teddy still he is enough of the active American to please all classes and conditions of men.

THE LITTLE BEE

That busy little bee that buzzes around the politician's head and stings him, thus exciting his ambition for office, has already begun its labors in Wisconsin. It promises to be a merry year for politics and if the present examples can be counted as a forecast of the future it will continue to be warmer as the time approaches for active hostilities. Already the bee has gotten in its deadly work in the state capital and all the present office-holders would like to retain their places. The fun commences.

New York is celebrating the fact that Henry Hudson discovered the Hudson river and that Robert Fulton was the first to steamboat on its surface, all at once. Meanwhile Dr. Cook has been royally received and Perry is on his way home full of fight to think anyone dares claim that they discovered the pole before he did. Truly old Father Knickerbocker is having a gay old time.

So it is possible that the auto-owners who have been running at the rate of twenty to twenty-five miles an hour may have to explain to the judge of the municipal court why they violate the state law relative to "speeding up."

Uncle Sam has a medal-bedecked hero for its Secretary of the War Department. True this is brighter than all the orders of the Knights of the Garter or Royal Fleece or such other trinkets of Europe. A real true hero in the right place.

Friends of the liquor business are needlessly worried up. General Grant will not call out the regulars to help enforce prohibition, even though he did ride in a prohibition parade.

Mr. Fairbanks is seeing all there is to see in the far east and something that can not be seen by men who are not as tall as he is.

Chicago is to have a diamond room and the guests are to be fed off real gold plates, while the waiters will wear silver clothes. Nice combination for a twenty-dollar dinner.

Lord Northcliffe, an English publisher, sees war with Germany as one of the possibilities for England to meet in the near future. Truly these Englishmen are looking for trouble all the time.

School children continue to greet President Taft just as though he had shot elephants and chased Spaniards all over the lot all his life.

Uncle Walt

THE POET PHILOSOPHER

By WALT MASON

(Copyright, 1909, by George M. Shaw Adams.)

If a man goes out on the trail of Woo (there's always a trail behind U), he won't have a very long way to go, and he's thundering sure and he's thundering sure.

HUNTING to find it. The man is TROUBLE, trouble who runs the land for Trouble until he's found it; if he had a bushel of nice white sand he wouldn't have sense to pound it. If people on earth would not give chase to Trouble, when she is sitting, methinks that Trouble would hide her face, and tend to her private knitting. Our time is short and our way is brief, and the road is rough and rutty; and if we rag at the heels of Grief, it shows that we're going nutty. It was long ago that I up and swore that I would be gay and cheerful; I won't be seen with a head that's sore, or an eye that's red and tearful; I'll smiling rise from my downy couch, till I turn up my dog-gone toes!" I've tried to live by that motto grand, as close as a man may to it, and Trouble for me is dead and canned, though 'twermost claps pursue it.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

TRED OF THE GAME.

"The game is not worth the candle."

That was the conclusion of Mrs. Ada T. Ols, daughter of a Chicago millionaire merchant, divorced wife of Millionaire Thomas Ols of Los Angeles, respecting this human life of ours.

Eight months after she had secured a divorce from her husband Mrs. Ols committed suicide.

She left a note addressed to a young man, also a millionaire, containing the seven words quoted above.

According to the Los Angeles dispatches, Mrs. Ols made the following statement to a friend four days before she took her life:

"When I got my decree of divorce I resolved I would not marry again. I tried society, but its vagaries disgusted me. I feel that the whole game of life is not worth the candle that it takes."

Poor woman!

Aye, poor—despite her wealth, wretchedly poor, poor in riches of recollections, poor in satisfaction of social service, poor in victory of work, poor in gratitude earned, poor in spirit, poor in heart's ease, poor in love, poor in hope—poor perhaps than her washerwoman.

Life held only the lure of vanity and the hold of spirit left in the bottom of the cup.

Why?

Why do so many having every chance into the way of life?

This woman looked upon existence, as do many, as "game"—a game to be played, while away the tedious hours or for selfish entertainment. Knowing only the social side and being an intellectual woman, when the game grew tiresome she was ready to snuff the candle.

Disillusioned, defeated, despairing, she ended the game of life.

The woman had ample wealth, culture, opportunity and immeasurable opportunities to make herself worthy of living. She failed because—

She had not learned or heeded the teaching of all human experience, to say nothing of divine dictum, that happiness comes through SERVICE and not in SELFISHNESS, in SACRIFICE, not in SATISFY.

Life is not a mere game to be frittered away.

Sad soul of a woman!

What supreme happiness she might have won, what possibilities of doing good in the world!

But—

When the diversion became a mere dawdling, when the pastime of the play pulled upon her, she did not even wait for the candle to go out!

How Few Are So Accomplished!

"In order to get genuine, practical results," said Uncle Eben, "a speaker wants to be mighty accomplished in recognition of occasions call for absolute silence."

MGR. DIOMEDE FALCONIO, MAY MAY BECOME CARDINAL.

Washington, D. C.—There seems to be a systematic advancement from the post at Washington under the Catholic church, to the college of Cardinals in Rome. If Mgr. D. Falconio is chosen for elevation to the college of Cardinals at the January sitting of the consistory at Rome he will be following in the footsteps of his predecessors at Washington, Mgr. Satali and Mgr. Martinielli.

Mgr. Falconio is a man of wide education and of unusual diplomatic ability. Being not yet seventy years of age, it is not too much to prophesy he may some day be chosen head of the Catholic church.

As a boy Mgr. Falconio lived in Abruzzi, which lies in the mountainous country east of Rome on the Adriatic. At the early age of fifteen he desired to become a priest and three years later entered the Franciscan order. By the time he had reached his majority he was made a priest and was known as Father Diomed. The following ten years he spent in Newfoundland. While in Italy on a visit to his home he was selected to act as provincial of the order of St. Bernardine. The energy and ability which he brought to the task of reorganizing his old province did not escape the notice of his superiors and he was rewarded by a appointment for a three year term. While he was still discharging the duties of his office he was elevated to procurator-general of the Franciscan order known as Reform. This honor came to him in 1889. Three years later he was made Bishop of Lacedonia. He acquired himself so creditably in his work that he was rewarded by the Pope ten years ago with the important post of apostolic delegate to the Dominion of Canada. His unusual familiarity with matters of ecclesiastical administration singled him out for the still more important post at Washington when a vacancy was created by the appointment of Martinielli as Cardinal.

Mgr. Falconio's rise from a poor Italian lad to a seat in the College of Cardinals at Rome, should his appointment be made in January, forms a most interesting character study.

A Lack of Confidence.
A minister, frequently away from home, was in the habit of getting some one to stay with his wife and small daughter in his absence. Once, however, he went so unexpectedly and hurriedly that he had no time to make such provision for them. The wife was very brave until night came, when her courage began to fail. After explaining every reasonable excuse for staying up, she put the child to bed with the injunction to pray especially for God's protection during father's absence. "Yes, mother, we will do that to-night," said the little girl, "but the next time we will make better arrangements."—Dellmeator.

Rubies and Diamonds.

Rubies are more valuable than diamonds, except by fire. While a flawless diamond of one karat may be worth roughly about $100, a perfect ruby of the same weight would be worth at least $200. With increase of size the difference becomes much greater. A diamond of ten karats is worth, perhaps, $4,000, while a ruby of that weight would be worth any price up to $70,000, which was the value placed on a rare stone exhibited at the Franco-British exposition in London last year.

Harbor-Protecting Mines.

The war department exhibit at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition contains a model exhibit of the system of protecting harbors by mines which will serve to show the people of the Pacific coast how perfectly secure against the entrance of hostile ships their harbors may be made. The terrific destruction wrought by mines in the Japanese war has rendered it certain that no captain of a costly modern battleship will jeopardize a $10,000,000 vessel by venturing into properly mined river or harbors.

Clung to Melancholy Mood.

"One peculiarity of melancholia," said the specialist, "is that the victim of it actually enjoys the despondency and often doesn't want to be cured. I once told a young woman who had this disease that she must be careful of her digestion and eat nothing fried. After that she tried to eat only fried food. Not only did she insist on having her potatoes and meat fried, but didn't want to eat bread unless it had been fried in a lot of grease."

Sitting in the Shadow.
One evening when Luther saw a little bird perched on a tree root there for the night, he said: "This little bird has had its supper, and now it is getting ready to go to sleep here, quite secure and content, never troubling itself what its food will be, or where its lodging on the morrow. Like David, it abides under the shadow of the Almighty." It sits on its little twig content, and lets God take care."

TO MAKE CHANGES IN WM. REED'S BOAT

Alterations Found Necessary at Trial Last Thursday Will Be Completed as Soon as Possible.

William Reed's new boat, an innovation in water craft, which was launched on the river and given a test last Thursday afternoon, has been taken out of the water and placed in the boat shop of Grover Horn, who built the machine. There were a few points in its construction that could be determined upon only after a demonstration and it was to determine these that the test was held.

William Reed's New Speed Craft, in Experimental State, as It Was Launched Last Thursday.

The trial was most successful, showing that the craft was capable of putting up speed, but it was found that the deck, which was only temporary, was too near the water. This defect, however, is slight and will be speedily remedied and then further experiments will be conducted to perfect the construction of the boat. Later on, too, it will be completed so as to carry passengers comfortably.

The aim of the inventor and the builder, William Reed and Grover Horn, is to attain a pleasure craft that will through its construction give increased speed.

With the two hollow tubes to keep the craft floating and the catamaran shape, the craft seems to glide through the water, and the gentlemen hope to lessen the resistance offered by the water in running an ordinary launch. The engine that is used in the experiments is a two-cylinder, six-horse Gray marine motor, with four-inch bore.

Does Statute of Limitations Bar Joseph Herman's Claim of $3200 for Personal Services, (EXCERPT FROM THE GAZETTE.)

Mantowee, Sept. 29.—Does the statute of limitation run as a bar to collection of claims against the estate of a deceased person where the claim is based on alleged services and support given? This is the interesting question raised in probate court in the hearing on a claim of $3200 for support and services covering a period of thirteen years and the defense, held to the estate, raised objection to any claim prior to six years previous to the death of the testator. No decision was given.

After Institute.

Two Rivers may secure the round-up farmers institute for the year, business men having raised funds for expenses and having taken the matter up with the state board of agriculture with some encouragement. More than forty instructors in institute work will attend the meeting which in addition to the institute will have a cooking school and exhibit. Last year Kaukauna had the round up.

Crew Is Moved.

Work has been completed for the present on the local harbor and the government plant and crew have been moved to Algonquin for four weeks. The last of twenty-four large Judson cement caissons have been sunk for the local harbor and upon the return of the crew here later work will be started on the steel structure and iron walk which will be erected along the pier to the light house and fog signal station. The government will have expended $400,000 in experimenting with the arrowhead-type of harbor when it finishes its work here.

Sale of Air Guns.

A city ordinance and state law prohibiting the sale of air guns to boys is being agitated here and will take the form of a resolution before the council at the next meeting and the council may bring the matter to the attention of the legislature. The agitation results from an accident which cost Henry Vito, a twelve year old lad, an eye.

Take No Contract.

Because of the lateness of the season and trouble in getting stone, Contractor W. Pellet has declined to take a city contract to repair the lake shore protection pier and is feared if left until spring the pier may have to be entirely rebuilt. The contract for repair is $5,000, but Pellet says he cannot get stone and refuses to accept the liability. The city may try and get some other contractor to accept.

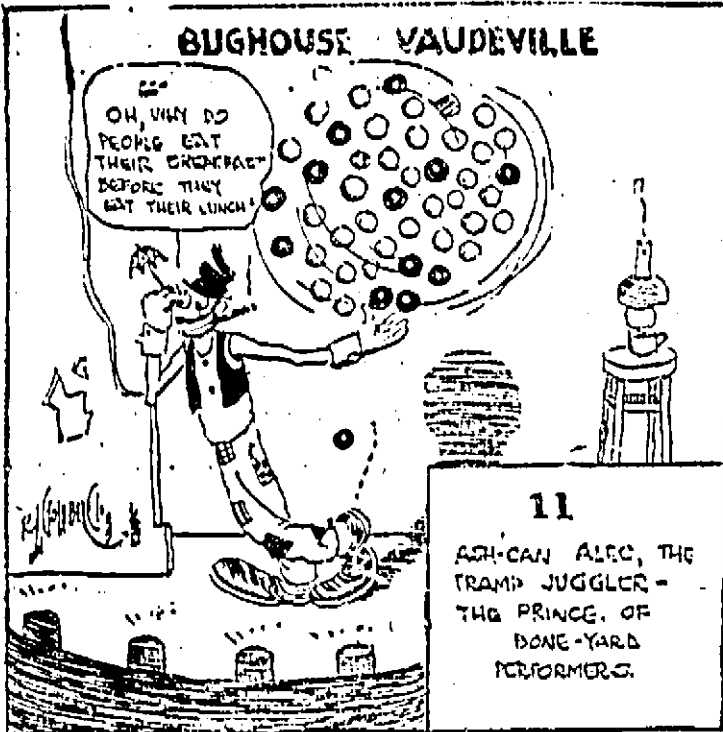

A Waterless Bath.

"What do you think?" said the man curious, "I cleaned my face today with a vacuum cleaner. It just takes the skin and pulls it so you can hardly get away. The man who operates one told me that he went over his face and clothing every night when he got through his work and felt as fresh as a daisy. Of course, he takes off the thing he uses for floors and walls. I believe I'll start a tad-taking waterless baths."

The Mind's Power.

"Zola," said a psychologist, "once wrote in a lady's album that his favorite amusement was writing and his favorite wish a sudden death." Zola died suddenly. "And it is a strange thing," said the psychologist, "that those who prefer a sudden death usually have their preference gratified." —Philadelphia Bulletin.

Sitting in the shadow.

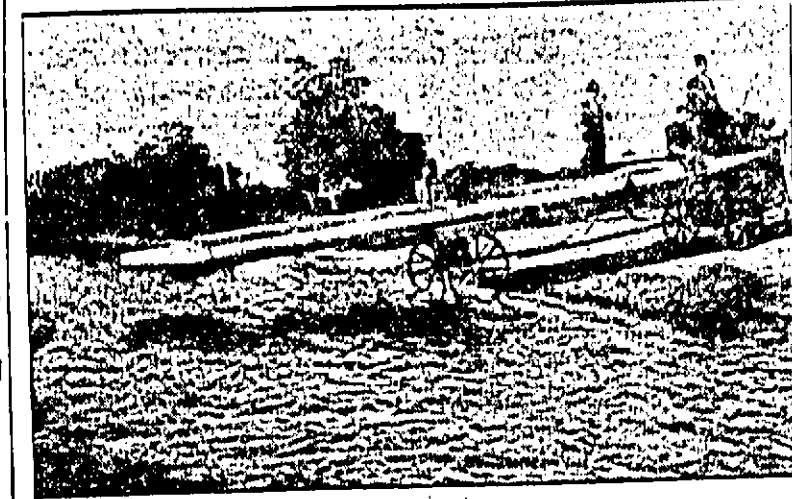

One evening when Luther saw a little bird perched on a tree roost there for the night, he said: "This little bird has had its supper, and now it is getting ready to go to sleep here, quite secure and content, never troubling itself what its food will be, or where it is lodging on the morrow. Like David, it abides under the shadow of the Almighty," and lets God take care."

TO MAKE CHANGES IN WM. REED'S BOAT

Alterations Found Necessary at Trial Last Thursday Will Be Completed as Soon as Possible.

William Reed's new boat, an innovation in water craft, which was launched on the river and given a test last Thursday afternoon, has been taken out of the water and placed in the boat shop of Grover Horn, who built the machine. There were a few points in its construction that could be determined upon only after a demonstration and it was to determine these that the test was held.

William Reed's New Speed Craft, in Experimental State, as It Was Launched Last Thursday.

The trial was most successful, showing that the craft was capable of putting on speed, but it was found that the deck, which was only temporary, was too near the water. This defect, however, is slight and will be speedily remedied and then further experiments will be conducted to perfect the construction of the boat. Later on, too, it will be completed so as to carry passengers comfortably.

The aim of the inventor and the builder, William Reed and Grover Horn, is to attain a pleasure craft that will through its construction give increased speed.

With the two hollow tubes to keep the craft floating and the catamaran shape, the craft seems to glide through the water, and the gentleman hope to lessen the resistance offered by the water in running an ordinary launch. The engine that is used in the experiments is a two-cylinder, six-horse power marine motor, with four-inch bore.

Postal Card Dangers.

A postal card is a great convenience, but it may be used in a way that will make considerable trouble, says the Union Press. Section 3393 of the federal statutes makes it a misdemeanor to place in the mails a postal card on which is written a statement of account or a demand for money of any description. A Rochester photographer was arrested on a charge of sending to a woman customer on a postal card a bill for two dollars for photographs.

He wrote on the card that the bill was a year old and suggested that he be paid in weekly installments of five cents. On being arraigned he pleaded not guilty and put up $250 bail.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

ARE you an "almost" person?

I mean one of that great class who allow themselves to be satisfied by getting almost there.

I have noticed the tendency so much in myself that I feel warmly on the subject.

If I have set myself a difficult stint for the morning I work with all my might until I get it almost done. Then maybe I hear the clock strike eleven and I see that I have only a little left to do and plenty of time in which to do it and immediately I begin to slacken down and dawdle. So that instead of getting through with my work with flying colors and maybe even doing a little more than I planned, dinner time after all finds me only "almost" done.

Few people realize how very small the difference between the crowd of mediocre workers and the few at the top is.

There seems to be a very wide gap between the brilliant success and the ordinary worker. Maybe there's only twenty feet between the man who catches the train and the man who almost catches it, yet one reaches his destination and the other doesn't.

It's just doing a FEW more things, just working a LITTLE harder, just pushing a LITTLE farther, just covering the TINY distance that lies between "ALMOST" and "WHOLLY" that makes success.

The mediocre workers are those who did well until they got to the five-yard line and then somehow began to slacken and weaken.

The successful are those who went on from the five-yard line to the goal and scored.

Looking forward and not backward, concentrating on what you have yet to do and forgetting what you have done is the best cure I know for the "almost" disease.

Once upon a time I remember a certain magazine held a contest in which a prize was to be given for the best list of the ten most terrible and the ten most beautiful words in the English language.

In the prize-winning list of the most terrible words I remember "death," "life," "blood," "murder," "alone," "forever," and "almost." At the time I rather wondered at that being included, but now it seems to me the most fit of all.

When the record is finally finished and we are given the chance to look it over—it's the things we've almost done, the heights we've almost reached, the wise decisions we've almost made that are going to cause us the bitterest regret.

If I were a minister I think I would preach a sermon on the word "Almost."

Maybe you think I'm doing it anyway. Then I'll prove I'm not.

How? Why, by stopping right here.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Miss Chaffee, who has been visiting with Miss Mabel Lee, left for Evanston this morning.

Hugh Craig is able to be up again after a severe siege with the grippe. Edmund Enright of Washington, D. C., who is visiting in Janesville, spent yesterday with his sister, Miss Eleanor Enright, who is attending the University of Wisconsin.

Mrs. E. R. Copeland, Mrs. D. S. Young, and Mrs. E. C. Copeland of Monroe, were guests yesterday at the home of Mrs. L. Ludlow on South Main street.

Charles H. Kellner of Madison, assistant manager of the International Harvester Co., was a Janesville visitor yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Porter, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Richmond, and Mrs. F. E. Colony and family were here from Evanston yesterday on an automobile tour.

Postoffice Inspector T. A. Kittredge of Chicago was in the city yesterday. Attorney A. A. Jackson transacted business in Milwaukee yesterday.

R. L. Colvin is confined to his home with illness. George Wright and son, Lawrence, were Wednesday visitors at the Jefferson fair.

Mrs. J. W. Laughlin has been spending a week with Chicago friends. W. F. Mendelson, a Madison architect, was here on business yesterday.

D. L. Jones was a Milwaukee visitor yesterday.

German Methodists in Conference. Elgin, Ill., Sept. 29.—The thirty-ninth annual session of the Chicago conference of the German Methodist church convened in Elgin with a sermon by Rev. H. Kornopp, of Watertown, Wis. The Chicago conference includes the churches of Eastern Wisconsin, Northern Illinois and Northern Indiana. One hundred ministers and men of national prominence are in attendance.

Wanamaker Widow Weds. Philadelphia, Sept. 29.—Mrs. Thomas H. Wanamaker, widow of Thomas H. Wanamaker, son of former Postmaster General Wanamaker, was married here to Dr. Archibald G. Thomson. Only a few relatives and friends were present.

Experience. Not a blade of grass but has a story to tell, not a heart but has its romance, not a life which does not hide a secret which is either its thorn or its spur.—Henri-Fredric Amiel.

Crown of Violets

This garment, extremely conservative in design, would be an excellent model when planning the "general utility" gown of the season's wardrobe. Any of the soft woolen materials would make up charmingly into this frock, but voile is especially suitable. It has a little full bodice with yoke of lace and simple bands of trimming holding the fullness at the shoulders. The high draped giraffe is of the material and is trimmed at the front with buttons and loops; these also trim the skirt. The skirt is gathered into the waist, having a knee flounce of pleats. The sleeve displays a novel fullness.

PECULIAR METHOD OF MOURNING

Russian Fanatics Dance Before Nude Body of Girl for Days.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 30.—As a result of a revolting ceremony, the feature of which was the frenzied dancing of men and women before an open altar on which the nude body of a dead girl was exposed for four days and nights, the city authorities have been asked by Eighth ward residents to expel the members of a Russian sect which is said to combine all the objectionable practices of the doublers and other fanatical emotionalists.

In reply to complaints of the neighbors, the Russians explained that the weird ceremony, with its shrieks, howling and dancing about the nude bodies of the dead was their way of mourning for girls who die on the threshold of womanhood.

WOMAN OVER 100 YEARS OLD.

Detained at Ellis Island Because of Her Advanced Age.

New York, Sept. 30.—Mrs. Linda Baldwin is being detained at Ellis Island, where she was taken from the steamship, Oceanic, because she is so old she cannot remember her age. She knows that she was between 20 and 40 years old when she came to this country first from Ireland, that she lived in Brooklyn for 60 years, and that for the last ten years she has been in Ireland. She came back to look after some property she owns here and the immigration officials desire to have the matter of her age settled.

Want Government by Commission.

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 30.—Delegates from 15 cities of the state representing the promotion of a commission form of government assembled in the Coliseum. The principal object of the convention was the adoption of resolution urging Gov. Deneen to incorporate in his call for a special session of the legislature, the consideration of an enabling act, providing that cities may adopt the commission plan of government by popular vote if they so desire.

Beats World's Trotting Record.

Columbus, O., Sept. 30.—Native Holl, owned by Edward Thompson, of Northport, Long Island, and driven by Thomas P. Murphy, acquired the world's record for two-year-old trotting fillies here and tied with Trampfast for world's honors for all sexes of the age. It was in the second heat of the Horae Review Futurity's Junior division that the filly trotted so well. Her time was 2:12 1/2.

Col. W. R. Morrison Dead.

Waterloo, Ill., Sept. 30.—Col. W. R. Morrison, for many years leader of the Democratic party and veteran of the Mexican war, died last night at his home here.

TO OUST HARVESTER "TRUST."

Subsidiary Plants Pose as "Independents" in Order to Sell Goods.

St. Louis, Sept. 30.—That the Osborne blunder was sold as an "Independent" machine until 1902, although the company manufacturing it had been absorbed by the International Harvester Company of New Jersey in 1903, was the testimony here of L. Grannemann of New Haven, Mo., a former agent of the big corporation and summoned by it as a witness for the defense in the suit of the state to oust the company from Missouri for alleged violation of the anti-trust laws.

Mr. Grannemann did not explain why this course was adopted with the Osborne machine. It is the contention of the state, however, that after the formation of the subsidiary plants posed as "Independent" in order to sell goods to people who were prejudiced against large corporations.

Cannibal Cave Dwellers.

Recent discoveries in Norway of human bones mixed with hearth ashes indicate that the cave dwellers of the North cape were cannibals.

Cost of Railroads.

Last year $56,000,000 was spent by the railroads of the United States for cross ties. The average price of the ties was 50 cents. Forty-three per cent. of the ties were of oak and 43 per cent. of yellow pine. Owing to the growing scarcity of suitable timber, other woods are being used after treatment with various preservatives, and it has been found that these treated outlast the more expensive untreated oak ties.

ADVERTISING A STORE

Advertising Must Have System—Best Medium for Merchant is Local Paper—Describe Goods Fully and Quote Prices, Change Ad Frequently and Run Locals in Connection to the Display Card.

At the outset let me state that I am not an advertising expert. What I know about advertising has been gained by some years of experience and what is the psychological effect of certain displays of goods in the show window, certain headlines upon a display ad and certain wordings of locals I shall not endeavor to state, but I shall give the benefit of what has given the very best results in the business which I have from a small beginning developed into a paying proposition in this now thriving and western town.

From the fact that anything attempted must have some system to prove successful and the fact that any system must be founded on principles, I have made advertising conform to the following rules:

First: All my advertising is a contract to the buying public as far as my business honor is concerned, if not otherwise, and I have even been very careful in all my advertising not to make a statement that I could not substantiate.

Second: Get the most possible for the money invested. This I consider one of the problems of advertising, and I shall endeavor to give my experience on this subject later on in this article.

In my opinion the best advertising medium for the retail merchant is the local newspaper.

In the display ads, I find that the headline should not be my name and place of business. This may appear any place in the ad—preferably at the bottom. Readers are not looking for someone's name, but for something they wish to buy and what it is going to cost them, consequently the headlines should refer to some seasonable goods or something that will lead to the subject.

Any stereotyped form gets tiresome, so I find that changing the ad with each slight turn of the season relieves monotony and keeps up interest.

I am a firm believer in describing the goods fully in the body of the display ad. I believe they should be described in such a manner that there will be no misunderstanding on the part of the purchaser as to the goods advertised, and then in the price quotation, which should always accompany the description, they will always understand that I have not advertised superior goods at an inferior price, or vice versa.

For example, I make the statement in an ad that "I sell the best garden hose for 25 cents." This might be very true in the sense of the value for the money, but a long way from the truth in the sense of being the best garden hose made, and by some readers it might be construed to mean that, it could be a standard make at that price, so in order that there will be no misunderstanding I give it either a grade or name, so that it can be recognized by the purchaser.

Cuts of the goods while they are an improvement to the appearance of an ad, I have not found to be of any very great advantage from the fact that they give no idea of appearance, size or quality, and take up valuable space that might more profitably be given to a description of the goods.

In locals, I follow the same plan, generally speaking, with the exception that I have them changed with greater frequency, generally letting them stand but two or three issues at the most, and use them principally to call attention to some one special article, I consider it useless to duplicate the same words in different places in the same issue, but quite often I call attention to the same articles in different words to advantage.

In locals, as well as display ads, I believe that unless the price is quoted the space is almost wasted.

This system to me has been the most profitable. Sensational advertising of sensational prices will sell goods, but generally at a loss, and will leave goods in which there is a fair margin of profit on your shelves, and as a general thing leave the idea in the minds of your customer that you are either a fool to sell goods for less than they cost you or that you are a grafter and are "making it back" on something else, and in either case you have lost the confidence of your trade, which is never profitable.—H. B. McKee, in Zenith.

JAPANESE COMMERCIAL DELEGATION AND LADIES AT SEATTLE, WASHINGTON.

Seattle, Wash.—The visit of the Japanese commercial delegates and ladies to this country has done much to strengthen the friendship between Japan and the United States. The delegates have been shown American goods at three host, daily trips to the manufacturing establishments of those producing goods which Japan might buy has been only one of the many ways in which commercial America has been tangibly presented to Japan. The commercial treaty signed by delegates from both Japan and America is the most unique treaty ever made.

MASSON GIVES

TRUE VERSION

OR WHAT HE CLAIMS ARE THE FACTS IN THE CASE.

GOT WHISKY IN STOUGHTON

Well Educated, Presumably Wealthy,

Indian Says That He Was

Not Responsible.

He is to $11,546, a descendant of the once powerful Ojibwa Indians and a graduate of Carleton; A. J. Masson is incarcerated in the county jail, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses. He will be tried on that charge in Beloit Oct. 8. In an interview this afternoon Masson claimed that he was in an irrepossi-ble condition when he committed the offense and gave some interesting details in regard to his experiences during the past month when he was engaged in a vigorous but unsuccessful fight with "Poor Lo's" horridity foe,

"five water."

The prisoner was arrested in Burlington last week on a charge of passing worthless checks in various towns between St. Paul and Beloit.

The proprietor of the Clark Hotel in the Line City was the heaviest loser

and it was he who caused Masson's arrest. During his tour of the state, which he stopped at Madison,

Stoughton, Edgerton, Janesville, Be-

loft, Watrous and Burlington, Masson managed to accumulate enough whisky to unbalance a man less hardy, and it was "five water" as he puts it, that caused him to transgress

the law.

According to his story, his home is about thirty-two miles from Oklahoma City, and since he graduated from Carleton in 1902 he has been engaged in raising horses at that place.

About two months ago, well supplied with money, he started on a trip through the west, and visited Denver,

Cheyenne and St. Paul. At the last-named city he purchased nine horses which he sent to Oklahoma and as a side issue became engaged to the landlady of a rooming house where he stopped.

On or about Sept. 20 he received the news of his father's death and it was the fact that he was unable to be present at the funeral that caused him to begin drinking heavily. According to his story, once started, he was unable to stop and when under the influence of liquor and without money to buy more he signed worthless checks. Even in a dry town, such as Stoughton, he managed to procure over a quart and a half of the real goods and the proprietor of the Woods Hotel in his creditor for $3, an amount representing a worthless check for $5 and two days' lodging. At Janesville he "got" for the management of the Grand Hotel for a night's lodging and at Beloit, the proprietor of the Wilson accepted

three bad checks, two for five dollars and one for ten, but the prisoner claims that he did not get any money for the largest check. In his condition at that time he was obviously regarded as too good a thing to let slip. Although Masson admits that he procured money under false pretenses, and remembers part of the proceedings at the Clark Hotel, he has a very hazy recollection of his journey from Madison to Stoughton and Edgerton.

The prisoner, who says he is one-hundred years old, is thirty-seven years old and says for his black hair and a feeling impression of the Indian in his talk, does not look or act like an Indian. He was a member of the Carleton baseball team and graduated from Carleton in 1902. His father, who died on Sept. 18, was ninety-seven years old, but his mother is still living in Oklahoma at the age of sixtyone. As a ward of the government, the prisoner is entitled to a share in the great amount of money held in trust by the government as payment for the lands once held by the Ojibwa.

He claims that his portion, when the settled Ojibwa settlement is made on June 16, 1910, will be $11,546.00. Since his majority he has received from the government an interest on the amount due him $101.02 every three months.

In view of these facts it seems very strange that he should be willing to accept help from the Minnesota woman to whom he is engaged and who is expected to arrive in the city any time with the wherewithal to pay the expenses of his trial. It would seem that this same woman would see him for breach of promise that prompted his flight through the state and when it was reported that she was in Beloit caused him to retain the services of Attorney Adams and pay him with a worthless check for $25.

According to statements made by the owners of the Stoughton and Janesville hotels, proceedings against

Masson will not be pushed if the prisoner can secure the amount due him.

For obvious reasons the Stoughton landlord does not wish Masson's proceedings in that town aired. Unless other worthless checks turn up, the only one that will prosecute for the charge is "five water" of Beloit and considering the fact that Masson claims that he can produce witnesses who will swear that he was practically irresponsible, his chances for a light sentence are bright.

STANT ACTION AGAINST

MODERN WOODMEN ORDER

Heirs of Elizabeth Fries, Deceased,

Seek to Recover $2,000 Insurance on Late Anton Woletz.

Edward, William, John, and Anna

Woletz, Minnie Mahler, Carrie But-

hart, Louise Hensel, and Mary Peters, all heirs of Elizabeth Fries, deceased, have started an action, through their attorney, H. H. Blanche, to recover $2,000 from the Modern

Woodmen of America. The claim is set up that the late Anton Woletz, a tailor who fell out of a window into the river and was drowned some years ago, carried a policy for this amount with the Woodmen. The members of the order maintain that he had been suspended at the time of his death and that his heirs were not entitled to the money.

Leg Broken in Accident.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Juda, Sept. 29.—The ten-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hill-brandt living east of town was run over by a load of wood Friday, the wheel passing over her limb just above the knee and breaking the bone. The child was playing in front of the load and ran across the road in front of the horses when she tum-bled. The horses were almost upon her when she fell and as the load was heavy and was going down a hill

the driver was unable to stop until the front wheel had passed over her limb. She was carried to her home and a physician called at once who set the bone. Her recovery is as rapid as could be expected.

MILWAUKEE

"I asked him, just like that, in a friendly way, and he thought a moment and made an effort to recollect, and then he seemed quite pleased to remember that I'd been 'Fanny' and he'd been 'Levi Longlegs,' and that he used to whistle things out of 'Parafal' by the fire on an evening."

"Well—but in that case—" Margaret stopped with an inquiring look. "Just so," continued Van Torp, nodding. "Did you ever attend a trial and hear a witness being cross-examined by a lawyer who wants him to remember something, and he wants to remember it himself, but can't because he never heard of it before in his life? It's quite funny. The lawyer makes stops for him and puts his feet into them so that he gets along nicely, unless the judge happens to wake up and kick, and then the little game stops right there, and somebody laughs. Well, my talk with Krallinsky was like that, only there was no judge, so he went away happy; and we're old friends now, and punched crows on the same punch, and he's coming on my yacht. I only wonder why he was so anxious to remember all that, and why he thought it would be kind of friendly if I called him Levi Longlegs again, and he called me Fanny Cook. I wonder! He says he's still very fond of 'Parafal,' and came on purpose to hear it, but that he's completely forgotten how to whistle. That's funny, too. I just thought I'd tell you, because if you come on my yacht and he comes, too, you're liable to see quite a good deal of one another."

"Did you tell him that Mrs. Rushmore and I would come?" Margaret asked. "And Lady Maud?" "Why, no. You've not promised yet, any more than you did last night when we talked about it, so how could I? I forgot to mention Lady Maud to him, or else I thought I wouldn't—I forgot which. It doesn't matter."

"No," Margaret smiled. "Not a little bit!" "You seem amused," observed Mr. Van Torp. "By your way of putting it and your pretending to forget such a thing."

"It wasn't quite true that I forgot, but I wanted to, so I didn't say anything about her. That's why I put it in that way. I don't choose to leave you any doubt about what I say, or mean, even in the smallest things. The moment you feel the least doubt about the perfect accuracy of anything I tell you, even if it's not at all a downright lie or anything resembling one, you won't trust me at all, in anything. Because, if you trust me, you'll end by liking me, and if

THUMPING HEADACHES.

Many Jansville Women Have Them, But Few Know the Real Cause.

Dull, thumping headaches. Sick, prostrating headaches. Dizzy, whirling, blind headaches—Point to disorders of the kidneys. Tell of uric poisons in the blood. Narcotics may ease the pain. But won't cure the cause.

Donan's Kidney Pills cure the kidneys. Remove uric poisons, purify the blood. Banish headache, backache, urinary ills. Here's Jansville testimony to prove it.

Mrs. Emilio Hall, 414 S. Franklin St., Jansville, Wis., says: "I suffered severely from pains in the small of my back for months. My head ached at times and later the secretions from my kidneys began to pass irregularly. I was feeling miserable when someone told me to try Donan's Kidney Pills and I procured a supply from the People's Drug Co. After using two or three boxes I was completely cured. I hope many other persons who are suffering from disordered kidneys will try Donan's Kidney Pills and be convinced of their merit."

quite "wits" away. "Do you really, really, really mean it?" She spoke almost like a child. It was not the first time in his life that the financier had seen the strengthening effect of a big sum, projected with precision, like a shell, at exactly the right moment. He was playing the great game again, but for a prize he thought worth more than any he had yet won, and the very magnitude of the risk steeled his naturally steady brain.

"Yes," he said quietly. "I do. Perhaps I've startled you a little, and I shouldn't like you to make a decision till you feel quite ready to. I'll just say again that I've thought the whole thing out as a genuine venture, and that I believe in it, or I wouldn't propose it. Maybe you've got some sensible lawyer you have confidence in, and would like to consult him first. If you feel that way, I'd rather you should. A business partnership's not a thing to go into with your eyes shut, and if we had any reason for distrusting one another, it would be better to make inquiries. But so far as that goes, it appears to me that we've got the facts to go on, which would make any partnership succeed. You've certainly got the musical brain, besides a little money of your own, and I've certainly got the rest of the funds. I'd like you to put some money in, though, if you can spare it, because that's a guarantee that you're going to be in earnest, too, and do your share in the musical side. You see I'm talking to you just as I would to a man in the same position. Not because I doubt that if you put your name to a piece of paper you really will do your share as a partner, but because I'm used to working in that sort of way in business. How does that strike you? I hope you're not offended."

"Offended!" "There was no mistaking the suppressed excitement and delight in her voice. If he had possessed the intelligence of Mephistopheles and the charm of Faust he could not have said anything more subtly pleasing to her dignity and her vanity.

"Of course," he said. "It needn't be a very large sum. Still it ought to be something that would make a difference to you."

She hesitated a moment, and then spoke rather timidly. "I think perhaps—if we did it—I could manage a hundred thousand pounds," she said. "Would that be too little, do you think?"

The large month twined and then smiled pleasantly. (TO BE CONTINUED.)

Controlling Flower Colors. By the use of chemicals, such as potassium hydrate, potassium carbonate, potassium sulphate, aluminum sulphate, calcium hydrate and lead acetate, Prof. Henry Kraemer of Philadelphia has produced a red color in the petals of the white Kalmian rose, and has caused hyacinths, naturally red-flowering, to produce blue blossoms, says Youth's Companion. The chemicals are fed to the plants in the form of solutions, or added to the soil in the solid form, solution then taking place gradually in the earth. The manner in which the chemicals act on the plants is not yet fully understood.

TAFT ADDRESSES THORNG IN SEATTLE

PRESIDENT INSPECTS EXHIBITS AT THE YUKON EXPOSITION.

IS GUEST OF BALLINGER

In North Yakima Address Chief Executive Dwells on Homogeneity of American People—Meets Old Sweetheart.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 30.—President Taft reached this city last evening and to-day is enjoying the hospitality and entertainment afforded by the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition. All day the president has been the center of interest for the great crowds at the fair. When he arrived in the city he was at once taken to his hotel by the reception committee, and after a refreshing night's sleep he arose early this morning and soon after breakfast was escorted to the exposition grounds. After making a tour of inspection of the buildings and exhibits in partook of an informal luncheon in the New York state building.

At two o'clock the president made his appearance on a speaker's stand in the national amphitheater and addressed a throng of people that filled the great place. His speech appealed especially to the people of the Pacific coast and was received with general approval. At the conclusion of his address Mr. Taft visited some of the attractions in the Pay Street and then returned to his hotel to rest up for a dinner that will be given this evening in the Washington state building. Tomorrow Mr. Taft will see something of the city of Seattle and later in the afternoon he will go to Tacoma for the evening.

Is Guest of Ballinger.

Arriving in Seattle last night, President Taft was the guest of Secretary of the Interior and Mrs. Ballinger at an informal reception. He retired early to rest for his day at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition today.

Renewed promises are being exacted from local committees by those in charge of the president's trip not to impose upon Mr. Taft's good nature in extending programs beyond their original length. Dinners and luncheons are to be curtailed whenever possible, and as the president never eats sweets at his own table, orders have been issued to cut out all desserts at banquets in his honor.

The president in his speech at North Yakima yesterday dwelt upon how impressively the homogeneity of the American people had been brought home to him during his tour of the country. He declared, with a laugh, that this fact was impressed upon him also during the tariff fight at Washington.

"We all wear the same clothes, even the latest fashions in the bonnets of the ladies; we all speak the same language and have the same ideas and aspirations."

People Are All Alike.

"One of the things that strikes one going around the country is the exactly similar attitude the people all occupy toward the questions that affect them in the same way—not towards the same questions, but towards those issues towards which they have the same relation."

"In the indignation of gentlemen of the range states with reference to free hides you have a counterpart in North Carolina, for instance, where they are distinctly in favor of two-dollar lumber, not as a protective tariff, of course, but —" and the president spoke with mock gravity—"in order that the revenues of the government may be maintained."

"And so it goes. The American nature is the same and is affected in the same way; affected not only by pecuniary and mercantile considerations, but also by higher sentiments and by looking at the country at large and his interests in the same way."

Meets Old Sweetheart.

The president met an old Cincinnati sweetheart at North Yakima. She is Mrs. Betty Hodges, formerly Miss Betty Evans, and Mr. Taft was best man at her wedding. The president told of the meeting in the course of his speech.

In his Yakima address the president also took occasion to pay a tribute to Senator Wesley L. Jones of Washington, who joined the party at Spokane. Gov. Hay of Washington, in introducing the president declared that it was through him that the Pacific coast had recognition on the national Republican ticket and for vice-president in 1912 he "placed in nomination Wesley Jones."

"In nominating Senator Jones for a place on the ticket," said the president, "I do not see why Gov. Hay should not name him for the presidency, for you are not in the habit of taking a back seat out here. You only want the best. Wherever you put Senator Jones he can be counted upon to do the right thing at the right time, and that, too, without any brass band or fireworks to tell that he is doing it. If you nominate him for the presidency I shall be glad to go before the country and testify to my own knowledge of his worth and ability, as I am doing here."

Shell Oyster

NUGGET OYSTER

Fit For You

Iten's Crackers in a "Stew"

Shell Oyster—a crackly, crisp cracker that explodes the theory that there ever was a better Oyster Cracker. They are delightful and certainly make a "stew" worth while.

Nugget Oyster—a fairy nugget of crispness. It tickles your palate all the way down.

"A stew without these two is not fit for you."

The Shell is 5 cents a package—the Nugget is 10 cents a package.

Mrs. Iten's Fine Biscuits

A perfect flake at all times, but especially delectable with salads. Buy it, and try it—15c.

SHOT BY MYSTERIOUS STRANGER

Boy Fatally Wounded Walks Miles—Fears Father Will Disbelieve Story.

New York, Sept. 30.—After Thomas Gray, 19 years old, was shot once in the chest, two inches from the heart, and once in the thigh, he walked the streets for two hours before going home, fearing that his father would not believe that a mysterious stranger in a doorway had wounded him without reason. On reaching home he talked pleasantly with his parents for a half hour and then retired. He had been in bed three hours when his mother had occasion to pass through the room and found the bloodstained garments. This led to the discovery that the youth had been shot. The father walked him more than a mile to Bellevue hospital, where the doctor said the wound in his chest might prove fatal. Gray insists that he did not know the man in the doorway who shot him, nor the cause of the shooting.

TOWN IN WALES UNDER WATER.

Floods Caused by Unprecedented Rain—Storms Inundate Aberavon.

London, Sept. 30.—An inundation in southern Wales has rendered hundreds of families temporarily homeless. The floods were caused by the River Avon bursting its banks in consequence of unprecedented rainstorms. Practically the entire town of Aberavon, with a population of 8,000, is under water the depth of which varies from two to six feet.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, September 30, 1869.—The balloting for the watch, which was a part of the entertainment at the rink last night, became very exciting, and resulted in the sale of tickets amounting to $400. Considering the fact that the watch cost but $55, it may be considered rather good. The recipient of the timepiece was Mrs. Lillie. Mrs. Keenan seemed to be very popular in the assemblage, but the votes were against her.

Trifled.—The new Methodist church and the Myers block will rejoice in the new roof. It will give them a timely appearance.

Peaches are still quite plentiful in this market, and sell from $1.10 to $1.25 per bushel. They are of good quality.

Milton avenue has been treated to a coat of gravel. A very sensible thing to do, inasmuch as since it was graded it has been in horrible condition during wet weather.

Meeting to Consider Railroad Tariffs.—It will be seen that a mass meeting has been called at the Court room tomorrow evening. A general opinion prevails, which appears to be well founded, that both lines of railroad running into this city discriminate against our business men and in favor of those at different points on their respective routes. The object of this meeting is to compare notes on this subject, and to see if measures cannot be taken to give our citizens privileges similar to those enjoyed by other places which do business with the metropolitan markets. They ask no special consideration, but simple justice, nothing more. We hope the meeting will be largely attended.

Talks on Snake Culture

No. 18—Their Happy Home

This sounds like a fish story from East Africa, but it is true: In a western prairie a man well stricken in years is spending the sunset of his life. His father died, a few years ago, in the same establishment. The other day his son arrived to keep him company. These generations in the prairie. These men were all of superior intelligence; they might have saved a great deal of wood in the world, had their ambition run in the direction of the woodpile. The grandfather built up a majestic thicket that could be seen for miles, and passed it along to his son, who nourished and cherished it, and kept the fire off it, until it landed him at the county farm, and then the grandson felt left to it, and he was true to his trust. The way he conducted that old thicket would have brought tears to your eyes. The grandson is being abused a good deal in the neighborhood, for he is a young man, and might be of some use; but most of the blame belongs to the grandfather, who established the family feud. An inherited thicket is a bad handicap to any man. If you are building up a stately, towering thicket, think of this: your thicket, passed along to future generations, may be putting people in jail, or in the poorhouse, or sending decent fellows to the bad, long after the county authorities have paid your funeral expenses. If you are establishing such a thicket, drop it, and do something useful. It would be better to contract a few painful but respectable diseases, and pass them along to the folks who are to come after you.

Aids Nature

The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing the wasted bodies, weak lungs, and debilitated and lingering coughs, is based on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies Nature with body-building, tissue-repairing, muscle-making materials, in condensed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest food, build up the body and thereby throw off lingering debilitated coughs. The "Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and nutritive organs in sound health, purifies and enriches the blood, and nourishes the nerves—in short establishes sound vigorous health.

If your dealer offers something "just as good," it is probably better FOR HIM—It pays better. But you are thinking of the cure not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. Say so.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in Plain English, or, Medical Simplified, 1008 pages, over 700 illustrations, newly revised up-to-date Edition, paper-bound, sent for 21 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of mailing only. Cloth-bound, 31 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.
